

BIOENERGY INSTITUTE FOR EDUCATORS

June 22-25 through June 28-July 1, 2010
University of Wisconsin-Madison campus

Focus areas:

- Bioenergy: development, use and applications
- Evaluating the sustainability of biofuels
- Carbon cycle and energy flow in the context of biofuels
- Nature of science as related to bioenergy research
- Development and use of classroom inquiry materials

Join us and enjoy:

- Dynamic interactions with scientists and education researchers
- Tours of GLBRC laboratories and field sites
- Active engagement with materials for teaching bioenergy concepts
- Time for reflection and collaboration with colleagues
- Support for the adaptation of education materials

- $500 stipend/participant, + funds to purchase materials for each team
- Teams of 3-4 teachers preferred. To apply, each team member must complete the online application (link at www.glbrc.org/education), which includes a short essay.
- Participants are expected to use materials from the Bioenergy Institute during the 2010-11 school year.
- The Institute is designed primarily for grade 6-12 educators. Others are welcome to apply.
- Applications accepted on a rolling basis. Deadline May 3, 2010

*If you have questions on the Institute, or for information on possible credit, please contact:
Sara Krauskopf (GLBRC) 608-263-0809 skrauskopf@glbrc.wisc.edu, or
Hedi Baxter-Lauffer (WFPP) 608-263-2634 hfbaxter@wisc.edu*